

CLOUDPHYSICIAN ACADEMY

CRITICAL CARE NUTRITION CERTIFICATE COURSE

We are introducing the seventh batch of the Critical Care Nutrition Certificate Course at Cloudphysician, a training program in critical care nutrition and dietetics. The course covers modules on critical care assessment, nutritional diagnosis, planning as well as intervention in clinical and medical nutrition. Modules are taught by our intensivists, clinical nutrition and dietetic experts.

Cloudphysician Academy was born out of the realization that quality healthcare delivery and patient-centric outcomes are closely linked to pragmatic training and the continuous creation of peer-reviewed evidence. In tandem with the training we provide, our dedicated research and innovation wing is focused on improving patient safety, care quality, and operational efficiency.
